

NAME: _____ DATE: _____

2. Project Soapbox Resources for Students Experiencing Trauma

Students often reveal personal stories of past and present trauma in their Project Soapbox speeches. Follow the legal responsibilities mandated to you where you work (if you are unsure—ask!) You should engage your school counselor and local support systems. Provided here are some general hotlines and web links that may also prove useful in providing resources for your students.

Website	Link	Phone #	Reason for calling
Child Help	http://www.childhelp.org/	1.800.4.A.CHILD or 1.800.422.4453	Child abuse
Crisis Call Center	http://www.crisiscallcenter.org/index.html	1.800.273.8255 (National Suicide Prevention Hotline)	Depression, suicide and crisis prevention
Cyber Bully Hotline	http://www.cyberbullyhotline.com/	1.800.420.1479	Cyber bullying
The Trevor Project	http://www.thetrevorproject.org/	1.866.488.7386	Resources and suicide prevention for LGBTQ youth
The National Domestic Violence Hotline	http://www.thehotline.org/	1.800.799.7233 1.800.787.3224(TTY)	Domestic abuse
School Counselor Resources	http://www.counselorresources.com/	1.800.421.4246	Youth counseling resources for purchase.